Bus Plunges Into Water at Spa, 13 Are Injured

HOPE, Ark. (AP)—A bus driver trying to avoid a collision with an oncoming pickup truck lost control of his big vehicle on the causeway of a near-by lake early today and the bus plunged down a slope into three feet of water.

Thirteen of the 16 persons aboard the Continental Trailways bus were injured, four of them severely.

Driver James D. Crowell, 42, of Texarkana, said he jammed on the brakes of the Dallas-to-Memphis bus when he saw the truck speeding toward him in the wrong lane. He said the bus skidded, crashed through a wire fence beside the road and rolled down a 20-foot embankment. The bus turned over on its way down but landed right side up.

The pickup truck did not stop. Crowell broke a window beside Richard Lamar Rankin, 26, of Springfield, Ohio, and Rankin wedged through. He crawled up a steep embankment and ran to a store where he summoned help.

State Trooper Glen Milton was the first officer to reach the scene at Lake Hamilton, on Highway 7, about four miles south of Hot Springs. Milton said that when he reached the wrecked bus, a "terrible quiet" prevailed.

"I was afraid they were all badly injured," he said later. Two fishermen in a boat came up and took the seriously injured persons to a nearby landing where ambulances waited. The other injured passengers climbed the embankment or were rescued by boat later.

The injured were hospitalized at Hot Springs. Two big rockers were sunk from the Hot Springs to remove the 47 passengers from the water. Officer said the highway would be closed during salvage operations. The highway is the main road between Hot Springs and Arkansas City.

Those Crazy Hats Are Coming

Research in Medicine Claimed Hurt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today accused the administration of having "gone so far as to set back the medical research program" in "a desperate attempt to present, on paper, a balanced budget."

The committee's criticism was embodied in a formal report sent today to the House floor for debate. This week a $3,915,084.18 bill to finance the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The total included $547,114,500 for the Labor Department, $3,348,247,281 for the Welfare Department and $19,497,400 for miscellaneous agencies.

This is $158,235,000 more than President Eisenhower requested. The committee called the President's budget figures for the National Institutes of Health "the worst and most confusing that have been submitted" since the institutes were founded.

The committee said progress in medical research has been so productive and holds out so much hope that this is no time to curtail the research programs. In the case of cancer research, it commented, "a reduction in the program would be gross foolishness."

Retirement System Rules Considered

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Retirement Board yesterday began establishing rules for a statewide county employee retirement system authorized by the 1935 General Assembly.

Persons 60 years old with 20 years service, or those 65 with 10 years service, are eligible to retire under the state program.

The board also approved the retirement of 10 state employees, including that of L. E. Flanagan, chief of the contributions section of the Employment Security Division.

Shipwreck Blamed on Lose Connection

SEATTLE (AP)—A lose connection that allowed sea water to seep into a 43 foot boat was blamed for the swamping of the pleasure cruiser with a loss of seven lives Sunday.

Shortages in Boone Co. Re-examined

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—The Boone County Grand Jury today opened an investigation of reported shortages in the accounts of two former officials.

The state comptroller's office said recently that a $2,064.50 shortage in the 1938 accounts of former Collector Paul Young had been repaid and that a $2,333.77 shortage existed in the accounts of former Circuit Clerk Lessie Williams.

Circuit Judge Woody Murray told the jury it did not have to confine its investigation to any specific offices. He suggested the jury might want to inquire into the possibility of unauthorized deputy hires.

Harrison lumberman Bill Bonsteel was appointed foreman of the jury.

Miss Williams, formerly, was Mrs. Lessie Williams Hamilton. She recently obtained a divorce and resumed her maiden name.

Miss Williams is under federal indictment on a charge of neglecting to file income tax reports for several years. She was to have gone to trial in Little Rock yesterday, but a postponement was ordered because another trial has not been finished.

Jury Must Check Ballots at Danville

DANVILLE, Ark. (AP)—If the federal grand jury investigating the Alford-Hays election wants to check ballots which were cast in Yell County, it will have to do it at Danville.

An order permitting the jury to make such an examination was signed by Circuit Judge Audrey Strait yesterday.

He signed it after attorneys representing both sides in a local liquor election contest said they had no objections.

The jury was able to check other ballots in the Fifth Congressional District race. But Yell County ballots previously had been impounded in the liquor election contest which has been appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Strait said in his order that the jury or its subcommittee had to make the check in the presence of county officials.

U.S. Atty. Ostr. Cobb of Little Rock said he petitioned for the order on behalf of the grand jury.

Dog Stuck Five Days, Fate Doubtful

OWASSO, Okla. (AP)—The fate of a rock-bound Little Richard Leonhound, stuck tightly nearly five days in a crevice of a rock embankment, appeared today to rest with a tiny Tulsa man of "last resort" dynamiting.

"We've got to get him out today or else," said Larry Wilson, the dog's owner. "A veterinarian said he probably can't last the day unless we do."

Albert Leeds, 37, volunteered to try to squeeze his 3-foot, 60-pound frame into the narrow fissure in an attempt to free Little Richard.

Rotary drills and rock hammers have been used on the thick rock. Workers ground to within two feet of the hound when they quit at midnight, but Wilson said the pace wasn't fast enough.

"The drills and hammers won't work," he added. "The rock is just like soap. They've made holes all over the rock but it won't crack or crumble."

Wilson visited Little Richard at his stony prison about dawn and reported the dog was "awfully weak" and no longer barking or whining.

Storm Strikes Area Near Clinton, Ark

CLINTON, Ark. (AP)—A windstorm some observers described as a tornado slashed into this north central Arkansas town last night, breaking windows and causing damage to houses roofs.

The storm blotted out electric power and telephone service for several hours.

No injuries were reported. Officers said the power was restored early today. Most telephone lines were open.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock issued a severe weather warning about 11 p.m. an hour after the storm hit Clinton. The alert warned of possible tornadoes and severe thunderstorms in the neighboring counties of Cleburne, Jackson and Independence. It expired about midnight and weathermen said today no other storm damage had been reported.

One officer said the blow was "a high wind that made a roaring noise." There were reports a tornado funnel was sighted but this could not be confirmed.

The sheriff's office said display windows at several downtown stores were smashed, trees were uprooted, windows broken in a number of houses and at least two roofs shared away. A full estimate of the damage could not be made immediately but apparently it was on a comparatively minor scale.

State Civil Defense Headquarters at Conway rushed a rescue squad and portable generators to Clinton.

Yearbook Is Handed Out to Hope Students

Activities of Hope-High School publications were climaxed last week with the issuing of the 1939 Bobcat (yearbook) and attendance at the 31st Arkansas High School Press Association by four Hi-Lights (newspaper) staff members.

At a special assembly Friday morning, the yearbook was presented to the student body; dedication to Mrs. Hamilton Hanagan, home economics teacher, was read; and it was announced that Nancy Tool, freshman, had been selected Robert Beauty Queen by Ken Miller, young Paramount actor. Distribution of the books followed.

Herter Arrives in Paris for Conferences

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter arrived from Washington today to help wrap up Western proposals on Germany for the Geneva foreign ministers' conference with the Soviet Union.

In a brief arrival statement, Herter said he was confident the West will approach the Soviet Union with unity and firmness of purpose.

He referred to disagreements among the Allies over proposals to be made to the Soviet Union saying, "It is wholly natural that the Western Countries should regard the questions to be discussed with the Soviets from somewhat different points of view."

But he said he has no doubt the Western Allies will "agree wholeheartedly" on the position they will take in Geneva.

Herter stepped from his four-engine Air France plane and walked easily down the ramp. He had a broad smile and warm handshakes for the welcoming party.

With the aid of crutches, he walked over to a group of photographers behind a police barrier and posed for several minutes.

Then Herter went into an airport reception room and made his statement, first in slightly accented French and then in English.

Herter expressed confidence the Allies would "reach the right result" as he left Washington by plane Monday night for his first foreign assignment as secretary of state.

Herter is to meet for three days, beginning Wednesday, with the British, French and West German foreign ministers.

The new U.S. secretary said the Allied ministers "will be primarily concerned with reaching final agreement among ourselves on a common Western position on outstanding questions related to the German problem which can be expected to arise during the Geneva four-power meeting."

"We have found the basis for a general agreement," a top French diplomat reported. An American source added: "It is surprising if we didn't have it all wrapped up beautifully before Geneva."

The four Western ministers will work on recommendations drawn up by a team of experts at London meeting which ended last week. They also will have suggestions from their North Atlantic Alliance partners who have studied the experts recommendations.

Informants in Paris said there was broad Allied agreement to present a package German proposal to the Soviets in Geneva, it includes:

1. A resolve to maintain Western occupation rights in Berlin and an agreement to negotiate on the German question provided these rights are not impaired.

2. A proposal for step by step limitation of forces in central Europe, linked with progress toward German reunification.

3. A proposal to create an all-German committee to build contacts between East and West Germany and to study the prospect for eventual free elections.

The only real difference in the Western camp hinges on the matter of European security.

Democrats Trying to Overthrow Ike's Veto of Electrical Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today to override President Eisenhower's veto of a rural electrification bill.

The Senate's speedy action set to a doubtful fate in the House a measure which would strip Secretary of Agriculture Benson of authority over government loans for Rural Electrification Administration programs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today to override President Eisenhower's veto of a rural electrification bill.

The Senate's speedy action set to a doubtful fate in the House a measure which would strip Secretary of Agriculture Benson of authority over government loans for Rural Electrification Administration programs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hot fight with pollition overrover and the White House today launched what amounted to a counter-offensive.

Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) came out for a meeting with President Eisenhower and quoted the President as saying he hopes Congress will sustain the veto. Then Dirksen fired a few shots at the Democrats.

The bill, Dirksen declared, had "political motives" in the first place. He said these were to give a fillip to organizations seeking the Democrats' support in what he called their "inward-looking" attitude.

"Showing backsliding and conservatism," he said, "is the attitude of the Secretary of Agriculture, Benson."

"The bill would take from the agriculture secretary powers to approve or disapprove loans by the Rural Electrification Administration, an agency in the Agriculture Department. The chief sponsor was Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D. Minn.)."

Dirksen said it would be a dangerous precedent for Congress to override the President's veto.

If powerful outside organizations can put the rural electrification bill across, he said, then the Democrats are interested in other fields will be encouraged to attempt to "whittle down the authority of other cabinet members."

Dirksen expressed his views to the measure after he and other GOP congressional chiefs had their regular weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

Some Democrats think their party would gain a political advantage, win or lose, by attempting to override the veto.

Panama Warned Cubans Planning More Invasions

PANAMA (AP)—Panama charged Monday night that hired fighters are massing in Cuba for more invasion attempts to overthrow President Ernesto de la Guardia.

Minister of Government Jose D. Buzan told the National Assembly two or three more invasion boats are being prepared in Cuba to bring to "about 400 the number of Cubans attempting to invade Panama."

The government claims the Cubans are hired by Panamanian revolutionaries.

Bazan indicated his information about more invaders came from three captured members of the first Panamanian group who landed on a deserted beach on Panama's east coast Saturday. Three were drowned in the landing, including the Panamanian commander.

Bazan said the main body of the invaders had occupied and sacked the town of Nombre de Dios Monday after an advance of 35 miles along the coast. He gave no details of damage to the town or its people, but said National Guard troops were patrolling off the coast of the area.

Both the Panamanian and Cuban governments were trying to get the invaders to surrender with out a fight. Two officers from Fidel Castro's Cuban army arrived early today from Havana to try to contact the invaders. The Cuban charge d'affaires and the Panamanian government, appealed by air-dropped leaflets.

One brief skirmish was reported between National Guardsmen in two landing barges and the invasion force on the beach. The government said casualties were inflicted on the Cubans but that none of the Guard was hit.

The United States announced it is supplying Panama 3,000-man defense force with small arms to fight off invaders. Under the U.S. Mutual Security Act, any member of the OAS is eligible for small arms, ammunition and supplies in an emergency.

The Panamanian government claims the movement to overthrow de la Guardia is headed and financed by Roberto Arias, son of ex-President Harmodio Arias and husband of British ballerina Margot Fonteyn. He slipped ashore on the Pacific coast 10 days ago with a small band, eluded troops for six days and finally took refuge in the Brazilian Embassy in Panama City.

Although the Panamanian government specifically did not accuse Fidel Castro's Cuban regime of complicity in the invasion plot, the preponderance of Cubans in the invasion force was highly embarrassing to Castro and his government.

Wants Better Labor Bill, Ike Tells GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told Republican congressional leaders today he wanted a better labor regulation bill than the one approved by the Senate.

The leaders reported this after a 2 1/2 hour conference with the President.

House GOP Chief Charles A. Halleck of Indiana called the Senate measure "grossly inadequate."

The party's Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, referred to the measure as a watered-down version of what is needed to stamp out racketeering in the labor field.

Both Halleck and Dirksen predicted that Eisenhower at his news conference Wednesday will express the hope the House will strengthen the Senate bill.

Action in the House is not likely before June.

Hearings on the Senate bill have been started by a House labor subcommittee and are expected to continue about four weeks. Some members estimate it may take another month after the hearings are closed to get an agreement on a bill.

The Senate measure, sponsored by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), was approved overwhelmingly last week. The vote was 80-1, but some senators who voted for it made it clear they feel the bill is inadequate.

Halleck said he plans to try to write into the House version provisions to deal with what he termed blackmail, extortion, picketing. He added he also wants to close loopholes in the secondary boycott situation.

In response to a question, Halleck said he expects to have Eisenhower's support for his proposals dealing with picketing and boycotts.

Power Bill Veto May Be Overridden

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats are preparing an attempt to override President Eisenhower's veto of a rural electrification bill. They hope to gain a political advantage whether they win or lose. If they can muster two-thirds of those voting in both houses and thus enact the measure, Democratic leaders feel they will have set a new pattern for more important bills likely to be bounced back to Congress by the President.

These include housing, airport aid and depressed areas legislation carrying spending authority substantially larger than Eisenhower recommended. No Eisenhower veto has been overridden. If they lose, the Democrats believe they will have added the Republicans with a 900 political liability—the enmity of farmers interested in REA expansion programs.

The argument over that started quickly, with statements and speeches both for and against overriding the veto.

The measure to which Eisenhower applied his veto Monday would strip Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and his successors of control over REA loans. It would give the REA administrator the final word in passing on such loans, although REA matters would remain under Benson's general supervision.

Eisenhower said such a shift would mark a major retreat from sound administrative policy and practice.

Benson said the change would put the secretary in an intolerable situation, and added he could conclude only that "his motivation is purely political."

But the National Rural Electric Cooperative Assn., demanding a prompt congressional reversal, said the veto "further repudiates the concept of nonpolitical administration of REA."

The final loan authority was transferred from the administrator to the secretary by an Eisenhower reorganization plan which the Republican Congress permitted to go into effect early in 1953.

Rate Increase Is Granted By PSC

Dear Dorothy Dix: In attempting to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, I have worked so hard that at times, I appear older than my husband. He is still far sighted for perfection but at any rate he knows how to dress and can carry on a conversation without the least directness and boasts with which he used to frighten or annoy intelligent people. There's been a great improvement from the awful mess he was when we married 15 years ago. The ironic part of it is that the higher I push him up the ladder of success the more scornful of me he becomes. Please don't misunderstand! I don't expect a medal of honor for doing what I enjoyed — making a gentleman out of a bum. After all, he is my hobby and the pleasure of accomplishment has been my reward. I just can't understand why he has become so sarcastic with me and why he flouts the fact that if anyone he is so inclined he could easily get rid of me and get himself a younger wife. Neither can I understand why he chooses his friends among the wife-haters and women-chasers. Is there some reason why he's afraid of associating with his equals? I've already gone to ridiculous lengths to please my husband but I won't associate with some of his objectionable friends nor will I go along with his suggestion that I work outside the home. I have plenty to do to keep the house, grounds and a modest social life in order. Will the man ever grow up? Your advice will be much appreciated. But nothing too drastic please. I might be tempted — AVON

Dear Avon: You don't need advice. With your capable hands, and with your sense of humor, you'll come through any thing. As long as you can laugh at a situation (as you can) and do it, it will never become hopeless. When, and if, you ever decide that husband is too much, you'll slip out and buy yourself another hunk of clay. Meanwhile, concentrate your creative activities on home, garden and some worthwhile community projects.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have lived next door to a fine couple for 17 years. Recently the husband passed away. Another neighbor and I got him a beautiful floral piece and sent it with names on it. The family wrote a thank you card to the other neighbor and ignored us. We felt this was a deliberate insult. — M.T.

Dear M.T.: Don't you think a family that has lost husband and father has more vital things to consider than insulting a neighbor? Won't you regard it as an understandable oversight in time of great grief and forgive it? Your cosender of the floral spray might mention your part in the offering, so the bereaved family won't think you had committed an oversight.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm an elderly woman of very modest means. My friend has a married daughter and son, each of whom has had a second child recently. I gave both young people wedding gifts and gifts for the first baby. I gave the daughter $5 for her second child, since her mother said that was what she needed. I bought a dress for the daughter-in-law's second child. It was returned to me with a note saying the child had too many dresses already. Should I give her money too? — E.C.

Nobody But the Players See Bums as Threat

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Virtually no one but the other players in the National League considered the Los Angeles Dodgers a threat for the pennant. And even the players would shrug when they explained that the Dodgers "were too good to be seventh last year."

So who's in first? The Dodgers. They made it a one-game lead Monday night, whipping Pittsburgh 9-3 with a five-run first inning. That supplied all the cushion Don Drysdale needed to beat the Pirates for the first time since 1957.

It was the lanky right-hander's third consecutive victory after losing his first decision and he did it with a six-hitter.

That was the only game played in the majors Monday. Only two others were scheduled, both in the NL and both were postponed by rain.

Manager Fred Haney's planned benching of left fielder Wes Covington and shortstop Johnny Logan was shelved when his defending champion Milwaukee Braves had to call off their game with the Chicago Cubs. The San Francisco Giants, in third place but only a game shy of the Dodgers along with the second-place Braves, also were idled by rain at Philadelphia.

The Dodgers, with Gil Hodges the only holdover from the old guard in the line-up, chased winless George Will, the sophomore who figured predominantly in the Pittsburgh's pennant plans, before he retired a man. That left this young right-hander with an 0-3 record and put the Pirates, seventh, four games off the pace.

Will, again troubled by a painful elbow this spring, walked the first two men he faced, then left after Wally Moon beat out an infield hit and Don Demeter lined a two-run single. Don Zimmer also singled home a pair and Drysdale, singled home another before reliever Ron Blackburn retired the side.

Hodges tripled home a run in a 9-3 decision over the Pirates, giving up six hits, three walks and striking out seven.

Hitting — Don Demeter and Don Zimmer, Dodgers, each lined a two-run single in a five-run first inning that led 9-3 victory over Pirates.

Across The Counter

W. E. White, Jr.

A wise man once said, (or if he didn't, he should have): "The best things in life come in mixtures."

Being in the business I'm in, I'm sure this scholar was referring to some of the new insurance "mixtures." Only we call them "packages" and "bundled" policies or "comprehensive" and "all risk" coverages.

Truly the insurance mixtures are usually better for you than the straight ingredients.

Here's why. The "mixture" combines several policies or coverages in one. As a result, there is less chance of leaving out a form of protection you'll need. Also, it avoids the possibility of paying twice for overlapping coverages.

And, then, there's the "savings" feature. The overall premium of the package policy is usually from 15% to 30% LESS than the same coverages purchased separately.

Claims adjustments are easier too, since only one company is involved.

And, finally, there is the convenience of one policy, one expiration, one agent.

Why not stop by our office and let us show you how one of these insurance mixtures will provide BETTER PROTECTION for YOU?

Yankees Not Looking Quite So Awesome

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Not since 1952 have the New York Yankees been a sub .500 ball club going into their first meeting with the west in an American League pennant race. But that's the way the defending world champions stand as they open a 10-game western tour at Chicago tonight.

With the Yankees having their troubles, the western clubs dominate the standings. The Baltimore Orioles, still chirping after a three-game sweep at New York, have the unfamiliar role of spearheading the invasion by the eastern teams.

The Cleveland Indians, holding only a one-game lead over Chicago after the White Sox swept the last three in a four-game, weekend series, are at home to the Boston Red Sox, tied with the Yankees for fifth. The Orioles open at Detroit and the Washington Senators played at Kansas City.

In Mondays only major league game, Los Angeles National League-leading Dodgers defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 9-2.

The Yankees, with a 6-7 record and a four-game losing string, send Bob Turley (1-2) against the White Sox Ray Moore (0-1).

With his Yankees below .500 for the fourth for the Dodgers, who had 11 hits, and they counted another in the fifth on a single by Charlie Neal, his second of the night, and the last in a string of seven he began Sunday in St. Louis.

That gave Drysdale a 7-0 lead before the Pirates bunched three hits for a sixth-inning run, on Smokey Burgess' double. They got their other two in the ninth, on another Burgess double, two walks, and a path of outs before Drysdale ended it by making Ramon Mejias his seventh strikeout victim.
